Chandrakīrti: A Luminary of Madhyamaka

Chandrakīrti, who lived in the 7th century CE, is considered one of the most important figures in the history of Madhyamaka. His magnum opus, the Madhyamakāvatāra, is a seminal work that has been studied and revered by scholars for centuries.

In the Madhyamakāvatāra, Chandrakīrti provides a comprehensive exposition of the Madhyamaka view, arguing that all phenomena are empty of inherent existence. He employs a rigorous logical analysis to deconstruct the various arguments for the existence of an independent self or an objectively existent world.

Ju Mipham: A Tibetan Master of Madhyamaka

Ju Mipham, who lived in the 19th century CE, was a renowned Tibetan Buddhist master who was deeply influenced by Chandrakīrti's teachings. His commentary on the Madhyamakāvatāra, known as the Tsondu Rabsel, is a masterpiece of scholarship that provides a profound and accessible explanation of Chandrakīrti's philosophy.

Mipham's commentary elucidates the subtle nuances of Chandrakīrti's thought, offering valuable insights into the nature of emptiness and the path to enlightenment. He skillfully weaves together logical reasoning, scriptural exegesis, and practical instructions to guide readers on their own journey of spiritual inquiry.
